Director of Public Affairs

11 December 1979

NOTE FOR: The Director

Some weeks ago we scheduled a luncheon with the Washington bureau of the Wall Street Journal for next Tuesday, 18 December. However, as you know, things have changed drastically since we made that commitment. I think until the situation in Iran is resolved you should not meet with members of the press. They will want to talk about all the things you can't discuss and what we have scheduled to cement relations could end up as a confrontation.

I suggest we postpone the luncheon with the Wall Street Journal using the excuse that current events make it impossible for you to get away.
